SALISBURY SQUIBBLINGS.

The Moore building is about ready for the roof.

Dr. Wilhite's new house has a "bell shaped" dome.

Some of our people have been attending the races at Moberly this week.

Work on the Christian church is progressing, but it will not be completed in time for services Sunday.

The black berry rush has developed a lot of early risers here, and DeWitts are temporarily out of commission.

Frank Tannehill, first assistant postmaster, has been on the sick list. This reminds us that our rural carriers are to swap jobs soon.

J. F. Pratt has sold old "Jim" to J. M. Dunn. Jim has broken more children to drive than any other horse in town.

Reckless driving in the residence portion of the city is still indulged, but nobody has been killed or arrested yet.

Two of our old citizens indulged in a "scrap," Monday morning, but we did not learn the cause of the difficulty.

State vs. Clark—Justice Mason's court—time, Monday—Charge—selling liquor without license—verdict, not guilty.

Mrs. A. V. Salisbury and daughter, Miss Lucile, of Kenton, Ohio, are here visiting friends and relatives and will remain for sometime.

As soon as the necessary amount of stock is subscribed, our fair promoters will incorporate, and proceed to prepare the track, erect buildings, etc.

Rev. Poteel of Huntsville filled his regular appointment here Sunday. He refused to join the Union movement and may go it alone. The church here is divided on the question.

Moses Chapman and John Gaston, two of Keytesville's "boys," came over Saturday to look around, but kept an eye on the depot, lest the train should leave them. We hope they will come again.

Wm. Potts and wife left Monday for a six-weeks visit to friends and relatives in Ontario, Canada. Miss Lizzie will look after the household in their absence. We wish them a safe trip and pleasant visit.

The town cow is more or less a luxury, at any time, but when one pays $1.50 a month for her to run in a bare lot, 50 cents to have her driven home and $2 a month for feed, she becomes a diamond of the first water.

D. W. Murphy and family and William Glassen and family have gone to Camden county overland, for a vacation trip. They took two buggies and one two horse wagon, and will camp along the way. We hope they will have a fine time.

Filipino Dislikes Manual Labor. The average Filipino does not take kindly to manual work, says the Shanghai Times. The tropical climate and his past education are all against him, and it would be almost surprising if things were other than they are. Four centuries of Spanish misrule have left a lasting impression on the natives of the Philippine islands that hand labor is degrading, and that any one earning his living by this means is lower than the Chinese coolie, which means much from the standpoint of a Filipino.

Love will find a way, even a way out.

Baptist Church Notes.

Now that the meetings are over, and we will have become rested by next Sunday, let us, one and all, put our shoulders to the wheel and make our work move as it has never moved before.

The Juniors had an inspiring meeting last Sunday evening. Subject: "Lessons from the Life of Jesus." Lesson No. 2 Clyde Gribble was leader. Next Sunday evening Juanita Grizzle is leader, and the subject will be: "Lessons from the Life of Jesus." Lesson No. 2.

One hundred and twenty-five in Sunday-school next Sunday morning is the mark. Last Sunday our superintendent and assistant superintendent were both out of town. Brother Hancock is at Excelsior Springs trying to regain his health. He expects to return in a week or two. Let us have the largest school awaiting him when he returns, that he has ever seen here. The weather is delightful, the roads are good and there is very little sickness. Come one, come all, let us get together in all departments of the work.

The Baptist Young People's Union meets each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, the subject for next Sunday evening is "How Christ Prayed and How We Should Pray." Matt. 14:23; Matt. 26:36-44. We will be infinitely rich and better if we will thoroughly and prayerfully study this subject. Roy Davis will lead the meeting.

Prayer-meeting each Wednesday evening. We will begin this week a study of the parables. For July 25, The Parable of the Hidden Treasure. F. L. A.

MUSIC MASTER'S CLEVER REUSE.

Maude Practice Seem Too Hard for Unpromising Pupil.

A very rich lady offered Garcia any price if he would only teach her daughter. He refused, knowing well he could never obtain serious work from her, but, as the mother persisted, he hit upon a compromise. He asked the ladies to be present during a lesson, and he undertook if the girl still wished to learn singing after hearing it taught, to teach her. The lesson began. The pupil, who seemed to the listeners an already finished singer, had to repeat passage after passage of the most difficult exercises before the master was satisfied. He insisted upon the minutest attention to every detail of execution. Mother and daughter exchanged horrified glances and looked on pityingly. The lesson finished, the master bowed the ladies out, and in passing the pupil the young girl whispered to her. "It would kill me!" Senior Garcia, returning from the door, said contentedly: "They will not come again; thank you, mon enfant, you sang well."—London Mail.

Old Hymns.
There's lots of music in 'em—the hymns of long ago—
And when some gray haired brother sings the ones I used to know,
I sorter want to take a hand; I think of days gone by,
"On Jordan's stormy banks I stand and cast a wistful eye!"
There's a lot of music in 'em—those dear, sweet hymns of old—
With visions bright of land of light, and shining streets of gold;
And I hear 'em singing—singing, where memory dreaming stands,
"From Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strands."
Ah! so I love the old hymns, and when my time shall come,
Before the light has left me, and my singing lips are dumb,
If I can hear 'em sing them then I'll pass without a sigh
To "Canaan's fair and happy land, where my possessions lie."

WOMEN SAT IN COUNSEL.

Centuries Ago Their Judgment on State Matters Was Welcomed.
Jennings, in his "Anecdotal History of the British Parliament," quotes a paragraph from Gordon which tends to show that centuries ago women had a direct voice in affairs of state: "The ladies of birth and quality sat in counsel with the Saxon Witas. In Wrighted's great council of Becon celd, A. D. 694, the abbesses sat and deliberated and five of them signed the decree of that council, along with the king, bishops and nobles. In Henry III. and Edward I's time four abbesses were summoned to parliament, viz., of Shaftesbury, Berking, St. Mary of Winchester and of Wilton. In the reign of Edward III. were summoned by writ to parliament, to appear there by their proxies, Mary, countess of Norfolk; Eleanor, countess of Ormond; Anna Despenser Philippa, countess of March; Johanna Fitzwater Agneta, countess of Pembroke; Mary de St. Paul, countess of Pembroke; Margaret de Rose Matilda, countess of Oxford, and Catherine, countess of Athole.

Ambassador Bearded Czar.
Sir Jerome Bowes, Queen Elizabeth's ambassador to Ivan the Terrible, czar of Russia, in 1583, had an exciting time. Ivan had killed his own son a few years earlier in a fit of passion, and was no easy character to deal with. The czar saw fit to disparage the English queen, whom he declared, "he did not reckon to be his fellow," there being those who were her betters. Bowes could not stand this sort of thing, and pluckily asserted that his princess was as great as any in Christendom. "What! As great as the emperor of Germany?" demanded Ivan. "Why," answered Bowes, with a fine assumption of scorn, "such is the greatness of the queen, my mistress, that the king her father had not long since the emperor in his pay in his wars against France." The czar was at first more furious than ever, but in time he took Bowes into his favor.

Was Once an Elevator Boy.
A well-known railroad man, whose headquarters are in the east, stepped into an elevator at the Midland hotel a day or two ago, saying he wished to go to the fourth floor. "Let me run it up, will you?" he asked the elevator boy. The boy stepped back and the railroad man pulled the rope and "ran" the elevator to the fourth floor, where he stopped it nicely. "You're pretty good at it," ventured the elevator boy. "I ought to be," replied the railroad man. "I got my start in life operating an elevator in an office building."—Kansas City Times.

MONEY IN MOONSHINE WHISKY.

Reverend Father Tells Why the Bush is So Fertile in Flourishing.
An old-time officer who has had years of active experience in raiding stills says that illicit distilling in the south will never be stopped. The reason is that the profits are so large they will always invite to a violation of the law. I will give, he says, an idea of how cheaply moonshine whisky is made, and the immense profits that are reaped from its sale. They take one gallon of cheap black molasses, which costs about 30 cents; two bushels of meal, costing 65 cents per bushel, and some water. This is made into a mash, allowed to ferment, and the stuff then goes through the process of evaporation. This amount of meal, water and molasses makes 40 gallons of whisky, which is sold for $2 a gallon. Anyone can see the immense profit from this illustration.

Brain Works Better at Night.

It is recognized by the man disposed to night work that after the conventional 6:30 o'clock dinner his brain begins to get into working order about 8:30 o'clock, and at 11:30 o'clock he may be wider awake and more active in his mentality than at any other period in the twenty-four hours. Yet if he be in normal health, he will find that in going to bed under such conditions, sleep will follow easily and soundly. It is only when insomnia is the sequence of such work that he should call a halt.

Variety in Vegetables.

A pleasant change in the dinner menu can be made by cooking the same vegetable in different ways. For instance, carrots cut in disc-shaped pieces and served with a rich white sauce are delicious. The same dish may be changed by adding liberal covering of bread or mustard cracker crumbs and browning in the oven for a few minutes. This plan may be followed with a number of different

KEY & GAINES REAL ESTATE CO. MOBERLY, MISSOURI.

We will make our next trip July 17 and Aug. 5 and will state to those who are interested in buying for homes or speculation, you cannot do better than go with us and see this country and satisfy yourself that it is more than we represent it to be.

There is money for you in investing in this land located in the Pan-handle any where, but there is not a place in Texas or any other state that the opportunity is so great for you to make quick money as we have, coming to the fact that we are in position to sell you the very best land in the Pan-handle cheaper than you can buy it at any other point, and at the same time the soil is unequalled in richness, the climate, water and productiveness of the soil are ideal.

There are many questions asked in regard to the kind of water we have in our locality, and we will say that it is pure, clear, soft water. The rainfall is all that is desired as the crops growing will show this fact to your satisfaction.

If you buy land in the Pan-handle or at any other point and buy the best you will pay from $3 to $10 an acre more for it than you can buy the same land for from us if you go with us, on any of our trips. We go with you personally, and if you buy land we will protect you in every detail and see that you pay no more than the current price for any thing you may select, and at any reasonable time should you become dissatisfied with your purchase that we have advised you to make we will take the land off of your hand at price you paid for it and pay you 12 per cent interest on your money for the time it was invested in the land. You would ask how can you do this? simply this way. This land is advancing at the rate of 50c., 75c. and $1 an acre each month and you can readily see we are safe in making you the proposition. If such were not the case we could not make you this offer, and advise you further to not be led off to territory where they have an array of fifteen to twenty four thousand dollar automobiles to haul you over the country, for if you buy land at these points you are paying your hard-earned cash for these automobile rides. We carry you over the country with heavy teams and you have time to see this soil as it is. Next trip, Tuesday, July 3, $17.75 round-trip. We pay all other expenses and show you the country.
